Smythes Creek, located just west of Ballarat, was named after Captain John James Barlow Smythes who had a lease of the Nintingbool Run in 1846. Originally known as 'Netingbull', the name is derived from the indigenous word 'Nunkunbool' which means 'morning star'.

This cool climate Chardonnay is produced at Nintingbool from locally grown, single vineyard grapes. The wine is fermented in both French oak barrels and stainless steel. 130 cases.
